In exceptional situations, where candidates might be severely disadvantaged or distressed by remaining in the exam room, the emergency evacuation procedure may also need to be followed. As soon as practically possible and safe to do so, details should be recorded. Details must include:

- The actual time of the start of the interruption.
- The actions taken.
- The actual time the exam(s) resumed.
- The actual finishing time(s) of the resumed exam(s).

Further details could include:

- Report on candidate behaviour throughout the interruption/evacuation.
- A judgement on the impact on candidates after the interruption/evacuation.

5. Emergency Evacuation Procedure

Invigilators are trained in this procedure and understand the actions they must take in the event of a fire alarm or other emergency that leads to an evacuation of the exam room.

Emergency Evacuation Procedure
Actions to be taken:
Stop the candidates from writing.
Collect the attendance register (in order to ensure all candidates are present).
Evacuate the examination room in line with the instructions given by the appropriate authority.
Advise candidates to leave all question papers and scripts in the examination room.
Candidates should leave the room in silence.
Make sure that the candidates are supervised as closely as possible while they are out of the examination room to make sure there is no discussion about the examination.
Make a note of the time of the interruption and how long it lasted.
Allow the candidates the full working time set for the examination.

If there are only a few candidates, consider the possibility of taking the candidates (with question papers and scripts) to another place to finish the examination.

Make a full report of the incident and of the action taken and send to the relevant awarding body.

Lock Down Procedure

Actions to be taken:

Stop the candidates writing.

Lock examination room door from the inside or place desks against the door to keep it from opening and turn off all lights. Move candidates to the far side of the room away from window view and instruct them to remain as quiet as possible.

Close all window blinds.

Take attendance register to ensure all candidates are present. Note names of students you may have brought into the exam room at the lockdown. Keeping record of who is present with you is critical in an emergency.

Do not open the door for anyone regardless of what you hear going outside. If someone knocks at the door, do not respond. An administrator may be under duress and be forced to ask you to open the door.
Do not.

Do not use your phone unless you are instructed to use them. Your administrator may be trying to contact you by mobile.

Ensure candidates stay in this lock down position until the 'all clear' is sounded.

Be prepared to follow further instructions from the Principal or Designee.

NEVER open the door or leave the room until the all-clear announcement is given.

Supervise candidates as closely as possible while making sure there is no discussion about the exam. Make a note of the time of the interruption and how long it lasted.

Once the danger has been assessed and building cleared candidates should complete the examination.

Alternatively, if necessary, candidates should be evacuated via the emergency exit to safety.

Make a full report of the incident and of the action taken and send it to the relevant awarding body.

Safe Haven (off campus evacuation)

Actions to be taken:

Stop the candidates writing.

Collect the attendance register (in order to ensure all candidates are present).

Evacuate the examination room in line with the instructions given by the appropriate authority.

Advise candidates to leave all question papers and scripts in the examination room. Candidates may take backpacks. No building re-entry! Remain calm and in firm control. Candidates will need good adult guidance.

Candidates should leave the room in silence.
Make sure that the candidates are supervised as closely as possible while they are out of the examination room to make sure there is no discussion about the examination.
Move to the announced assembly point with the candidates. Note that this assembly point may be off site at the back of the school.
Remain quiet and listen for direction from Principal or his Designee.
WAIT AT ASSEMBLY POINT until direction is given to move to the 'safe' location area.
The Crisis Management Team will identify staff members who will be responsible for leading groups to the "Safe Haven" location area.
Students and teachers in each group must follow the designated line leader's directions.
Be responsible for your group. Good judgment and mature discretion will be the best rule in any time of crisis.
Write it down! Keep notes, names, numbers, and reminders in writing.
If there are only a few candidates, consider the possibility of taking the candidates (with question papers and scripts) to another place to finish the examination and in that case allow the candidates the full working time set for the examination.
Make a full report of the incident and of the action taken and send it to the relevant awarding body.
